

Project Manager (m/f/d) Germany

Ref. Nr.: 491052

Das Unternehmen

Our client Sunrock has the ambitious strategy to become a pan European leader in the solar development sector with a prime focus on the commercial and industrial rooftop market. Germany is a key focus market with a team that is rapidly expanding. Our client's customers have logistic assets in Germany which Sunrock offers large scale solar rooftops and smart energy solutions (e.g. battery storage). Sunrock is expanding their already established development pipeline and they foresee a rapid build out of the German project development and project management teams. The German headquarter is based in Düsseldorf city centre.

Die Aufgabe

- Overall responsible for all technical aspects of the project.
- Hands-on project management of projects:
- Conduct and manage technical feasibility studies (Roof, Construction and Grid)
- Prepare project documentation
- Set-up contracts with EPC partners, Grid operators, etc.
- Getting consent from all project stakeholders (e.g. tenants)
- Manage partners / stakeholders during the project construction phase
- Make sure the project completion / commissioning and hand over to Asset management is on time, within budget and according the best safety and quality standards
- Manage partnerships (EPC, grid operators, TDD parties)
- Working together with the Dutch project management team for specific clients requirements, project management, knowledge sharing, etc.
- Monitor relevant market and regulatory developments (EEG, solar, logistics real estate, etc)

Ihr Profil

- Self-starter, problem solver, positive, persevering, fun
- Proven leadership skills, able to motivate and persuade others, relationship builder
- Education: Master in a technical direction (Mechanical, Electrical, Renewables, Physics, etc.)
- Experience and proven track record in a project management role (e.g. renewable energy, real estate, industry)
- A keen eye for detail and accuracy
- Able to work independently as well as being a teamplayer
- Fluent in German and proficient in English is a must.
- Comfortable to work from Düsseldorf office and/or from home
- Comfortable to travel throughout Germany on weekly basis

Einsatzort: Düsseldorf

Anstellungsstatus: Festanstellung